

Burley To Receive 2022 Cunningham Award

Newark High School senior Dylan Burley has been named the 2022 recipient of the Elmer J. Cunningham Educational award.

The son of James Burley and the late Lisa Burley, Dylan will attend SUNY Fredonia in the fall where he will major in theater arts and minor in music.

The Elmer J. Cunningham Educational Award is a trust fund created by the will of the late Clara F. Cunningham in memory of her brother, Elmer J. Cunningham, who was the first principal of Lincoln

School. He served in that capacity for more than a quarter of a century.

In accordance with the terms of the will, a scholarship award is made annually to the “member of the senior class who, being a graduate of Lincoln Grammar School, has the highest scholastic average for his or her high school work and is accepted at a college or school where he or she will continue his or her formal education.”

Burley will receive the award June 24th at Commencement.
