

Davanzo, Sullivan Will Be Administrative Interns At Newark Middle School Next Month

Michael “Mikey” Davanzo and Christina Sullivan will begin working part-time as Administrative Interns at the Newark Middle School in late August.

In so doing Davanzo, who has been a K-2 Reading Specialist at Perkins School for the last six years and Sullivan, Newark Central School District Committee on Special Education Chairperson since March, will meet the internship requirements of the administrative degrees they are working on obtaining at the University of Rochester.

They will be working alongside Principal John Ginter and Assistant Principal Melanie Meyer.

As part of her internship, Davanzo will work Monday through Wednesday at NMS and Thursday and Friday with Assistant Superintendent for Curriculum and Instruction Krista Lewis on professional and curriculum development.

Sullivan will continue to work as CSE Chair Monday through Wednesday and at NMS Thursday and Fridays

“We are very excited to have both

Christina and Mikey joining the Middle School team. They both bring such diverse experiences and talents that I have no doubt they will help all students reach their fullest potential,” said Ginter.

“I look forward to the opportunity to work with the staff, students and families at the Middle School, as well as learning from the administrative teams at both Middle School and District Office,” Davanzo said.

“I am looking forward to starting my internship at the Middle School and District Office. I'm grateful for the opportunity and looking forward to the new experience,” said Sullivan.

Davanzo, who this summer is the Dean of Students for the Newark Middle School Summer School, began working in the Newark Central School District 15 years ago. She worked at Kelley School as a Reading Specialist for 9 years before she began working in the same role at Perkins.

She earned her Bachelor’s Degree in Elementary and Special Education at SUNY Geneseo and her Master’s Degree in Literacy at Nazareth College.

Davanzo, who lives in Farmington, is the mother of two daughters. Ellie, 13, and Camryn, 9.

Sullivan began working in the NCSD eight years ago as a Special Education teacher at Kelley School. Before that she worked as a long-term substitute for grades 1-5 in the Spencerport Central School District.

She received her Bachelor’s Degree in General Education from Medaille College and her Master’s Degree in Special Education and Literacy from SUNY Brockport.

Sullivan lives in Fairport with wife, Jessica Esders, a Special Education teacher in the Spencerport Central School District, and their three-year-old daughter Maggie.
