After being unable to do so last year, the Newark Reds Volleyball Program will again host its annual Dig Pink Event October 9th to raise money for the national SideOut Foundation that fundraises for Stage 4 breast cancer research.

“We have been having a Dig Pink Event since 2009 and have raised over $12,000 for the SideOut Foundation thanks to Newark staff, parents, and community members supporting us,” said Matt May, Newark Middle School counselor who is the head varsity volleyball coach. “We have several ways individuals can contribute this year.”

1. You can purchase a t-shirt by emailing me directly with the subject line “Dig Pink shirt.” Please include your name, quantity and size of shirt(s) you would like as well as what building you are in. We will do everything we can to get them to you before October 8th (supply chain issues might interfere with this). Shirts cost $12 for sizes S-2XL; 3XL and 4XL shirts are $15. Cash or checks work. Please make check out to NHS SideOut Boosters.

2. You can make a direct donation to our fundraising campaign by clicking (or copying and pasting) this link:
