

Eileen Kalbfus Is New Assistant Principal At Newark Middle School

Eileen Kalbfus became the new Assistant Principal of Newark Middle School August 23rd.

Her four-year probationary appointment was approved by the Board of Education August 18th. She replaced Kari Hamelinck who became an Assistant Principal at Newark High School July 26th.

"I am thrilled to be joining the Newark Central School District and the team at Newark Middle School," Kalbfus said after her appointment. "I look forward to building new relationships and working together with teachers, staff and parents to help our students reach their fullest potential every day!"

"We're very excited to welcome Eileen to the Middle School," said NMS Principal Teresa Prinzi. "She will make a great addition to our school as she brings passion and excitement for teaching, learning and building connections with students, staff and families."

Most recently, Kalbfus has been supporting teachers and students as an Academic Intervention Teacher / Instructional Coach for the Rochester City School District at Pinnacle School #35.

Prior to this role, she served as a Technology Integration Specialist and has taught K-6 education in multiple schools throughout the RCSD.

Kalbfus earned a Bachelor of Arts degree at the State University of Buffalo; a Master's Degree in Elementary Education at Nazareth College; and her Administrative Certification Program at the University of Rochester.

A graduate of Fairport High School, she lives in Fairport with her husband, David, and their two teenage daughters, Elise and Taylor.
