Yvonne MacTaggart

The proposed 2019-20 Newark Central School District budget passed by a 79 percent margin in the annual school district election yesterday. The vote was 505-138.

The bus proposition passed by an 84 percent margin _ 535-106. The truck maintenance/purchases proposition passed by a 74 percent margin, 475 to 168.

Superintendent Matt Cook expressed appreciation for the support of the NCSD educational program and thanked everyone that voted.

Also in the election, incumbent Board of Education member, Yvonne MacTaggart, who has served 9 years on the BOE, won re-election to fourth, three-year term with 255 votes.

Newcomer Dr. Richard Martin won a three-year seat on the board with 248 votes.

Incumbent Jim Miranda was defeated in his bid for a second, three-year term on the BOE as he received 208 votes.

Making their first runs for a seat on the BOE, Mary Thoms received 247 votes and Keeley Kuperus received 186 votes.

Cook thanked everyone that ran for a seat on the BOE and congratulated the winners.

“Congratulations to Yvonne and Rich! Thanks to Mary, Jim and Keeley for running and to Jim for your years of service on the BOE,” Cook said.
