Including Upcoming
Virtual Seminar March 13th

Persons thinking about running for the Newark Central School District Board of Education may want to consider participating in the upcoming virtual seminar for Prospective Board Members March 13th.

BOE President Russ Harris said the three-hour session would be very helpful to someone considering running for one of four seats on the Board in the May 18th election.

“It would give interested individuals the opportunity to have their questions answered by veteran BOE members, other school superintendents and attorneys from the region,” he said.

Dr. Marla Iverson, Executive Director of the Four County SBA, shared, “Attendee feedback on the seminar has traditionally been very positive as participants appreciate the perspectives of the diverse group of presenters who share the commitment, roles, responsibilities, and rewards of board service.”
