Open Access Center

Are you feeling overwhelmed during the COVID-19 event?

Do you need help managing your mental health or emotional wellbeing?

Are you struggling with addiction now?

Let us assist you, your family member or a friend in dealing with the situation. The Open Access Center is available to anyone and our team of professionals is available for you to assess your mental health or addiction related needs, and determine how we can best help you and link you to a service provider.

Services during the COVID-19 event may include telephone or video counseling.
