

Welcome Sarah!

nursing home, and it's fun here and lighthearted working around young children. I love kids." she said. "And I'm looking forward to having lots of family coming through this school."

And that won't just be her daughter and other children she hopes to have, but nieces and nephews as well.

Perkins Principal Sue Achille says Griepsma is doing a great job as secretary.

"I love her. She's organized. Her personality is fantastic. I feel she was made for this job. And she's fantastic with kids."

Griepsma, who earned a bachelor's degree in mass communication and broadcasting from SUNY Oswego and whose husband is a truck driver for McLane out of Baldwinsville, enjoys playing volleyball and photography in her leisure time.

During her college years at Monroe Community College and SUNY Oswego, 2008 Newark High School graduate Sarah Griepsma was fortunate to be selected to do two, six-month internships at Disney College at the Walt Disney World Resort in Orlando, Florida.

Working her first stint in entertainment and her second at Mission Space at Epcot, she realized just how much she loved working with children in such a lighthearted atmosphere.

"I loved it _ I love Disney," raved Griepsma.

And she loves working around children in her relatively new job at Perkins School where she has been secretary since January 29th _ minus, of course, the six weeks she was on maternity leave following the birth in March of she and husband Mason's first child _ Amelia.

A departure from her last two jobs _ a year working as a unit clerk at the Wayne County Nursing Home and before that as an insurance agent at CIG in Canandaigua _ Griepsma says she finds the combination of working in a fast-paced school office and interaction with young children really to her liking.

"It was fun working around the older residents at the
